From Generation To Generation...
Our Persimmon Roots
Run Deep!

Mayor's Welcome

It is my honor to welcome you to the 79th annual Mitchell Persimmon Festival. This cherished tradition has brought our community together in celebration of our heritage, our hospitality, and the enduring spirit that defines the City of Mitchell.

Each year, the festival serves as a homecoming for residents, visitors, and families who return to experience the sights, sounds, and flavors that make this event so special. From the aroma of festival food treats to the excitement of the grand parade, the festival reflects the pride we share in our community and the traditions we continue to uphold.

I extend my sincere appreciation to the festival chairwoman Katie Houchin and Co-chairs Jodi Clark and Mike Miller for their exceptional leadership and dedication. Their hard work along with the efforts of the Mitchell Chamber of Commerce, our volunteers, sponsors, civic organizations, and city staff- ensures the continued success of our festival celebration.

Whether you are a lifelong resident, visiting for the first time or returning for another year of memories, I hope you enjoy the events, stage entertainment, carnival midway, and fellowship that make the Persimmon Festival a highlight of our community.

Thank you for celebrating with us as we honor 79 years of tradition and community pride.

Welcome

Hello from Persimmon Country and Welcome to the 79th Annual Mitchell Persimmon Festival!

My name is Katie Houchin, and I am honored to serve as the General Chairman for the 2026 Mitchell Persimmon Festival. As a lifelong resident of Mitchell, the last full week of September has always been something I have eagerly anticipated. Our festival is more than just an event- it is a cherished tradition that brings our community together and celebrates the spirit of who we are.

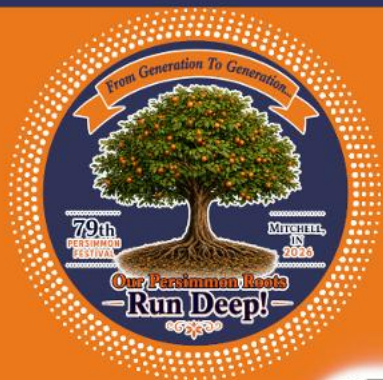

This year's theme, "From Generation to Generation, Our Persimmon Roots Run Deep," reflects the heart of our festival. It honors the generations of volunteers whose dedication and passion have sustained this tradition for nearly eight decades and continues to shape its future. Alongside my chairman, Jodi Clark and Mike Miller, I am incredibly excited to share all that we have been planning over the past year. From entertainment and community events to the food and festivities we all know and love, there will truly be something for everyone to enjoy.

We sincerely hope you'll spend your evenings with us downtown-enjoying the entertainment, indulging in your favorite festival foods, and making memories that will last a lifetime.

We can't wait to celebrate with you on Main!

Katie Houchin

2026 Persimmon Festival Chairpersons

GENERAL CHAIRPERSON Katie Houchin

Katie Houchin serves as the General Chairman for the 2026 Mitchell Persimmon Festival. A lifelong resident of Mitchell, Katie has always cherished the tradition of spending time at the festival and celebrating all it brings to the community.

This year's festival theme, "From Generation to Generation, Our Persimmon Roots Run Deep," reflects Katie's desire to honor the generational volunteerism that has allowed the festival to thrive for nearly eight decades. Katie is proud to be a third generation festival volunteer. Her grandfather, Bill Harrison, served as Persimmon Pudding chairman in the 1960's and instilled in her the importance of community involvement and giving back. He also taught her how to appreciate a good persimmon pudding. Her mother, Drucy Burton and Aunt, Candy Isom, chaired the Phi Beta Psi Food tent in the 1980's; and her father, Chris Burton, was General Chairman in 1982. She served as Persimmon Festival Queen chair for 7 years before joining the festival committee. Katie, along with her co-chair, Jodi Clark, will also be the first former Festival Queens to serve as General Chairmen.

Katie is a 2010 graduate of Mitchell High School and earned her Bachelor of Science from Ball State University, followed by a Master's Degree in Speech-Language Pathology from Saint Mary's College at Notre Dame. She currently is employed as a SLP at a local skilled nursing facility.

Katie, and her husband, Daniel have been married for 10 years and are busy raising their three children: Rhett, Ryleigh, and Reagan. They reside just west of Mitchell.

Katie extends her sincere thanks to her co-chairs, Jodi Clark and Mike Miller, her family, and the Mitchell Chamber of Commerce for their continued support. She hopes everyone enjoys the festival and creates lasting memories on Main Street!!

2026 Persimmon

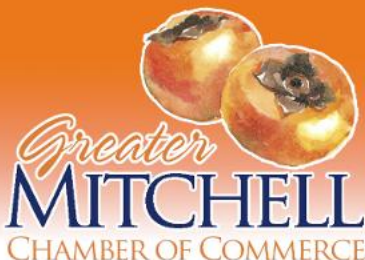

Co-Chair
Jodi Clark

Jodi Clark is honored to serve as Co-Chair of the Persimmon festival, continuing her long standing commitment to this cherished community tradition. A lifelong Mitchell resident, Jodi has been involved with the festival for many years, including more than 18 years working the Phi Beta food booth as a member of the Phi Beta Phi Sorority. She also served as queen pageant chair and was crowned the 1991 Persimmon Festival Queen.

Professionally, Jodi is an insurance agent with Indiana Farm Bureau, where she builds strong community ties through personalized coverage solutions and currently serves on the board for the Mitchell Chamber of Commerce. Her dedication to the festival and to her community shines through in every role she takes on.

Jodi and her husband Terry, call Mitchell home and are blessed with a blended family. They are excited to make more memories with family and friends at this years Persimmon Festival.

Executive Branch

Jodi Clark, Don Caudell II, and Toya Lamm

Chamber Office Manager and Secretary: Krissy Mundy

Festival Chairpersons

Co-Chair
Mike Miller

Michael Miller is proud to serve as the newest co-chair of the Mitchell Persimmon Festival and considers it an honor and privilege to take on this role. A resident of Mitchell since 2014, he relocated to the area to join the team at French Lick Resort, where he currently serves as Director of Table Games and Casino Food & Beverage. With more than 30 years of experience in the casino industry, primarily in Indiana, Michael brings a strong background in leadership, operations, and community engagement. Originally from a small town in Wisconsin, he values the close-knit feel of communities like Mitchell.

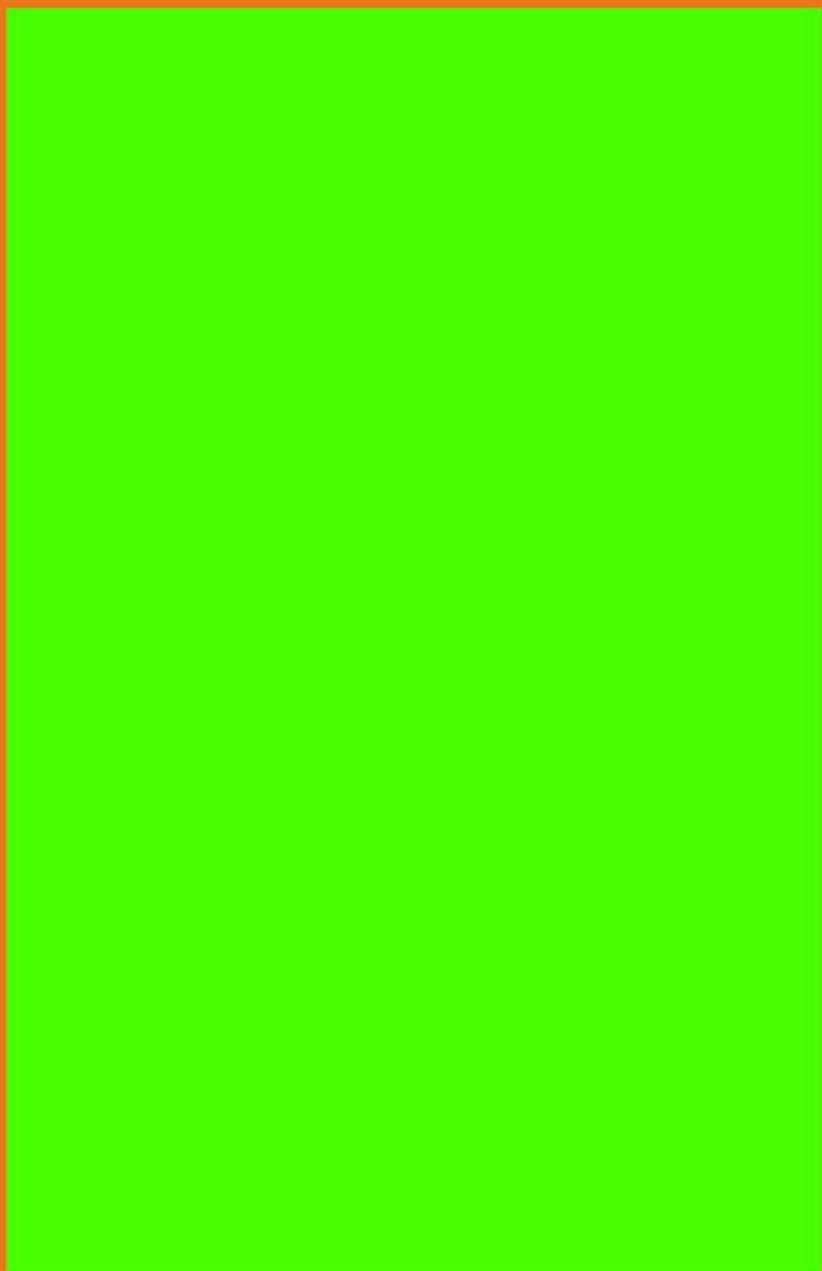

Michael has been married to his wife, Crystal, for 26 years. Crystal is originally from the Mitchell area and is a graduate of Bedford North Lawrence High School. Together they have two daughters, both graduates of Mitchell High School. Their daughter Haley is a teacher in the Mitchell school system and is married to Seth; they have a daughter, Lennon. Their daughter Paige works in the medical field in Indianapolis and is engaged to be married next year. Crystal is currently in the process of opening a new coffee shop, Heartbrew, in Mitchell.

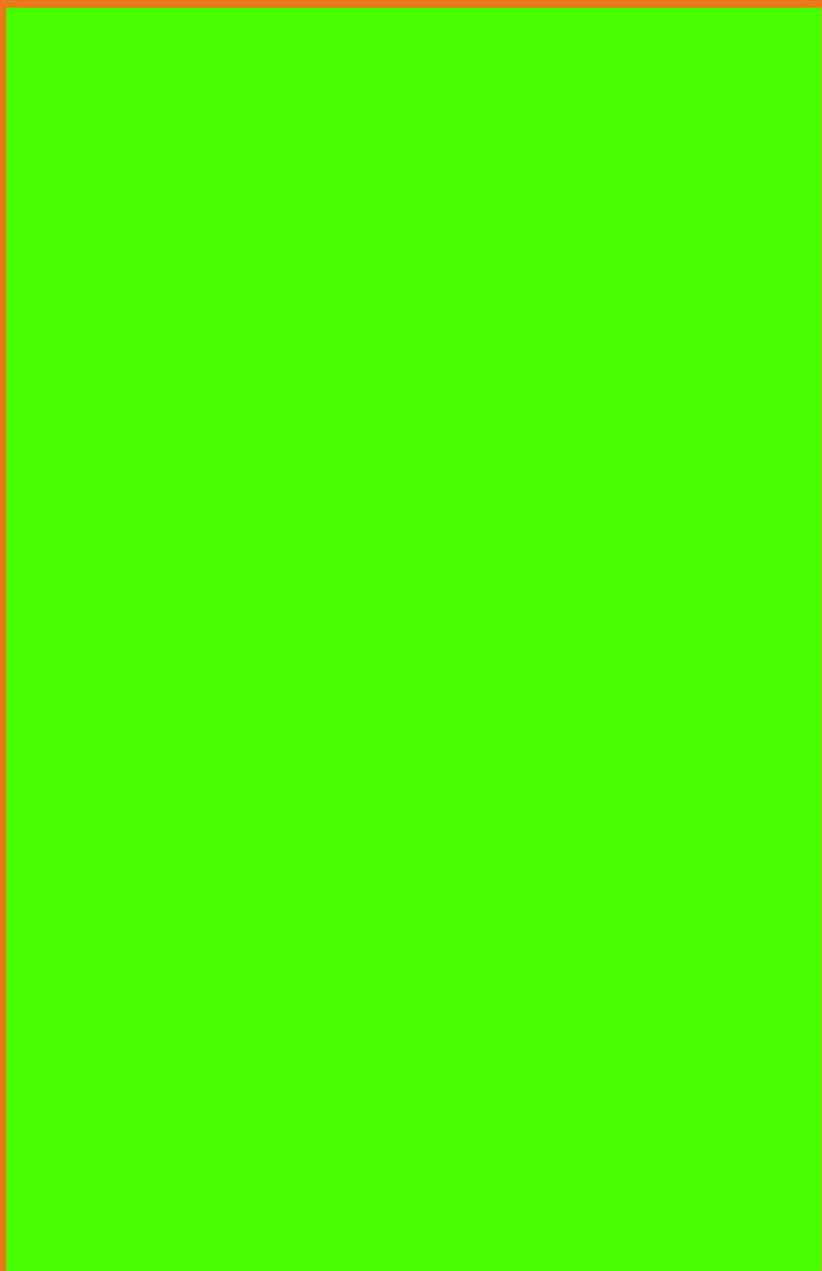

Deeply invested in the community, Michael has coached various Mitchell youth sports teams and enjoys sports and outdoor activities. He has especially enjoyed the Persimmon Festival since moving to Mitchell and believes it is a truly special event that brings the community together—creating opportunities to reconnect with old friends and giving everyone the chance to feel like a kid again.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million (12% of the population) (Department of Health 2000).

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for health care services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing incidence of chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, and diabetes. This has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector, particularly in the health care industry.

Another reason for the increase is the expansion of the public sector. The government has invested heavily in the public sector, particularly in the health care industry. This has led to the creation of new jobs and the expansion of existing ones. For example, the number of people employed in the health care industry has increased from 10.5 million in 1990 to 12.5 million in 2000.

There are also a number of other factors that have contributed to the increase in the number of people employed in the public sector. For example, the government has increased its spending on the public sector, and there has been a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector. This has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector.

There are a number of challenges that the public sector faces in the future. One of the main challenges is the increasing demand for health care services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing incidence of chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, and diabetes. This has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector, particularly in the health care industry.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and is projected to reach 17.5 million by 2020 (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of the elderly population. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the care of the elderly, which includes a commitment to improve the health and quality of life of the elderly population. This strategy is based on the following principles:

- To promote the health and well-being of the elderly population.
- To ensure that the elderly population has access to the services and resources they need to live well.
- To ensure that the elderly population is treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including:

- To reduce the number of elderly people who are in long-term care.
- To improve the quality of care for elderly people in long-term care.
- To ensure that elderly people have access to the services and resources they need to live well.

The strategy also sets out a number of key actions, including:

- To improve the health and well-being of the elderly population.
- To ensure that the elderly population has access to the services and resources they need to live well.
- To ensure that the elderly population is treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy also sets out a number of key indicators, including:

Malachi Parks Band

The Malachi Parks Band is a Southern Indiana group led by singer-songwriter Malachi Parks, known for blending original music with influences from gospel, country, and rock. He's joined by guitarist Dakota Winters, bassist and pianist Mark Oliver, and guitarist Glen Burden—each bringing years of experience and a deep passion for music. Together, they deliver heartfelt, high-energy performances rooted in faith, storytelling, and a genuine connection with their audience..

Wednesday 23rd 7:30pm

The Flatline Band

Flatline is a four-piece band from southern Indiana, delivering a powerful mix of rock and country hits from the '80s to today. They play the songs everyone knows and loves, the ones you forgot you missed, along with original tracks that carry a deeper emotional weight. While Flatline has always been rooted in good music and good times, the loss of a close friend brought a new sense of purpose to their journey. Writing and performing their own music became a heartfelt tribute and a way to keep the spirit of their beginnings alive. Featuring Jon Moon, Shawn Collingsworth, Mike Butterfield, and Carl Anderson, Flatline brings a high-energy blend of timeless favorites and meaningful originals to every performance—whether it's a rowdy bar night or a packed summer festival.

the 1990s, the number of people who are employed in the service sector has increased in all countries. The increase is most pronounced in the United States, where the service sector has become the dominant sector of the economy.

The increase in the service sector has led to a decline in the manufacturing sector. This is due to the fact that the service sector is more labour-intensive than the manufacturing sector. As a result, the manufacturing sector has become less competitive in the global market. This has led to a decline in the number of jobs in the manufacturing sector.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and is projected to reach 17.5 million by 2020 (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of the elderly population. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the care of the elderly, which includes a commitment to improve the health and well-being of the elderly population, to ensure that they are able to live independently for as long as possible, and to provide a high quality of care for those who are unable to live independently.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key objectives for the care of the elderly, including: to improve the health and well-being of the elderly population; to ensure that the elderly population are able to live independently for as long as possible; to provide a high quality of care for those who are unable to live independently; and to ensure that the care of the elderly is cost-effective.

the fact that the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is the most widely read journal in the field of behavior analysis, and that the Journal of Experimental and Applied Behavior Analysis is the second most widely read journal in the field of behavior analysis.

It is important to note that the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is the only journal in the field of behavior analysis that is published by a non-profit organization, the Association for Behavior Analysis International (ABAI). The Journal of Experimental and Applied Behavior Analysis is published by the American Psychological Association (APA), which is a for-profit organization. This difference in ownership may be one of the reasons why the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is more widely read than the Journal of Experimental and Applied Behavior Analysis.

The Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is also more widely read than the Journal of Experimental and Applied Behavior Analysis because it is more accessible to a wider range of researchers. The Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is published in a format that is more accessible to researchers who are not specialists in the field of behavior analysis. the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 600 million to 800 million. The number of people who are malnourished has increased from 1.2 billion to 1.5 billion.

There are a number of reasons for this. One of the main reasons is that the world population has increased from 5 billion to 6 billion. Another reason is that the world population is becoming more urbanized. This means that there are more people living in cities, where food is more expensive. A third reason is that the world population is becoming more aged. This means that there are more people who are unable to work and therefore unable to earn money to buy food.

There are a number of ways in which we can reduce the number of people who are undernourished. One way is to increase the amount of food that is produced. This can be done by increasing the amount of land that is used for agriculture, by increasing the amount of water that is used for irrigation, and by increasing the amount of fertilizer that is used. Another way is to reduce the amount of food that is lost. This can be done by reducing the amount of food that is wasted, by reducing the amount of food that is lost to pests and diseases, and by reducing the amount of food that is lost to spoilage.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million (12% of the population) (Department of Health 2000).

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for health services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing incidence of chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, and diabetes. This has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector, particularly in the health service.

Another reason for the increase is the growing emphasis on prevention and health promotion. This has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector, particularly in the health service. For example, the number of people employed in the health service has increased from 10.5 million in 1990 to 12.5 million in 2000 (Department of Health 2000).

GRAND MARSHALS

Albert and Tonya Chastain have been named Co-Grand Marshals of the 2026 Persimmon Festival Parade in recognition of their decades of dedication and service to the festival and the Mitchell community. Albert became involved with the festival as commercial tent chairman and later served four years as co-chairman before being appointed general chairman in 1971 and again in 1976. He also helped organize numerous festival parades and fondly recalls the volunteers who made them possible, saying, “It has been a privilege to be a volunteer in a community festival that is celebrating its 79th anniversary.”

Tonya’s involvement with the Persimmon Festival began at an early age through her family’s long-standing work with the Phi Beta Psi Persimmon Festival Food Stand. A past food stand chair and former Phi Beta Psi president, she co-chaired the festival in 1999 and 2000, served as festival chairperson in 2001, and helped lead the 75th Persimmon Festival in 2022. Her community service also includes work with the Greater Mitchell Chamber of Commerce and serving as director of Lawrence County Tourism.

Together, Albert and Tonya represent a legacy of volunteerism, leadership, and community spirit that has helped shape the Persimmon Festival for generations.

The number of people aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million in 1990 to 12.5 million in 2000 (Department of Health 2000). This has led to an increase in the number of people who are dependent on the state for their care and support.

Another reason for the increase is the growth of the public sector. The public sector has grown from 10.5 million in 1990 to 12.5 million in 2000 (Department of Health 2000). This has led to an increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector.

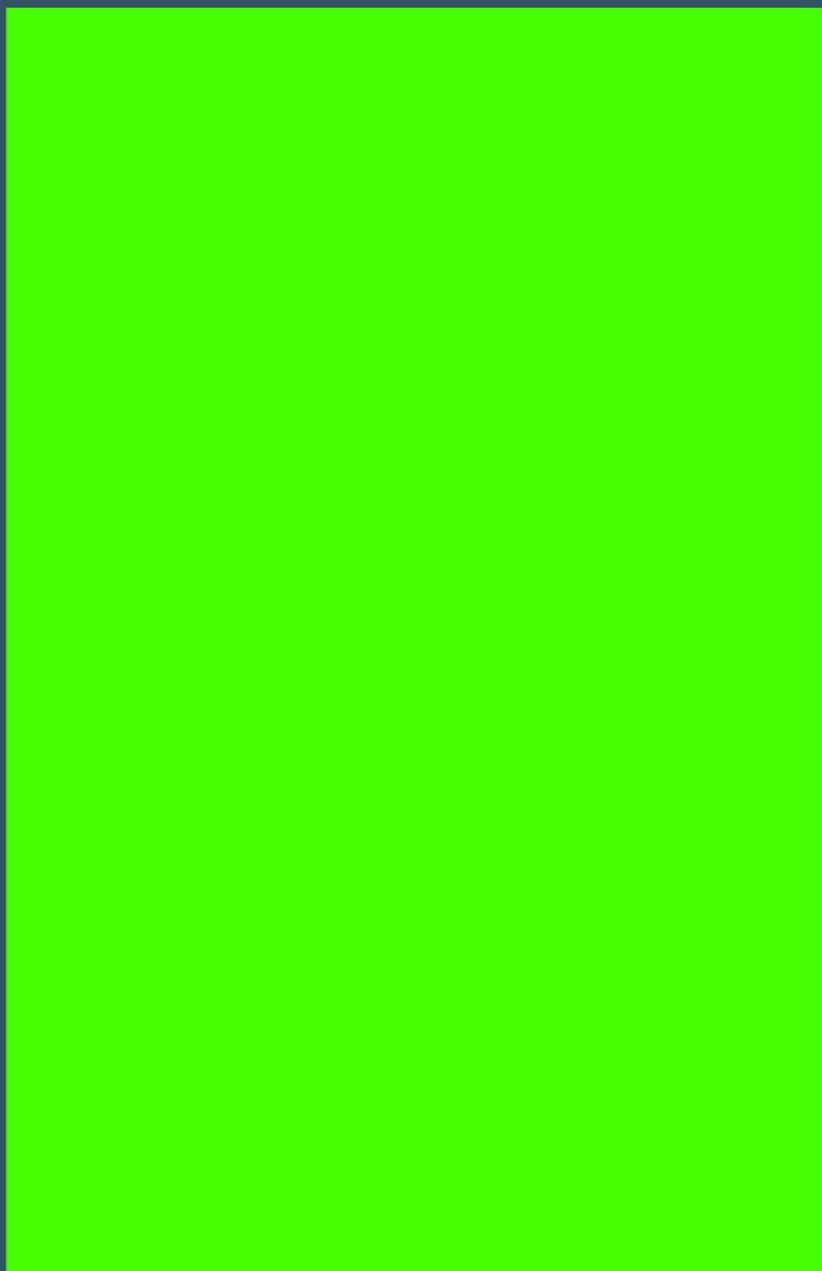

A third reason for the increase is the increase in the number of people who are employed in the public sector. The number of people employed in the public sector has increased from 10.5 million in 1990 to 12.5 million in 2000 (Department of Health 2000).

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people in the private sector has increased from 17.5 million to 19.5 million.

There are a number of reasons for this increase in public sector employment. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for public services, such as health care, education, and social care. Another reason is the increasing number of people who are retired and therefore dependent on public services. A third reason is the increasing number of people who are unemployed and therefore dependent on public services.

The increase in public sector employment has led to a number of changes in the way that public services are delivered. One of the main changes is the increasing use of private contractors to deliver public services. Another change is the increasing use of public-private partnerships (PPPs) to deliver public services. A third change is the increasing use of outsourcing to deliver public services.

The increase in public sector employment has also led to a number of changes in the way that public services are funded. One of the main changes is the increasing use of user charges to fund public services. Another change is the increasing use of taxes to fund public services. A third change is the increasing use of borrowing to fund public services.

The increase in public sector employment has also led to a number of changes in the way that public services are managed.
